INQUIRIES

Questions about this Issuance should be addressed by email to Andrea Robins, Managing Director of Planning at arobins@feckc.org, who shall disseminate the agency response after consulting with Full Employment Council Officers.

PURPOSE

This Issuance provides guidelines and legal bases addressing adverse actions associated with harassment, discrimination and retaliation. This policy also addresses accommodations. This Issuance is based upon Missouri Division of Workforce Development (DWD) Issuance 33-2017, and replaces Issuance No. 2017-004, Harassment, Discrimination, and Retaliation Policy; Accommodation Policy.

BACKGROUND

The nondiscrimination and equal opportunity (EO) provisions of WIOA prohibit discrimination against applicants, beneficiaries, and employees because of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, and political affiliation or belief, and, for beneficiaries only, citizenship or participation in a WIOA Title I financially assisted program or activity. The regulations that implement these provisions are published at 29 CFR Part 38, and further prohibit intimidation of, or retaliation against, complainants. Additionally, the rules mandate reasonable accommodations and reasonable modifications for individuals with disabilities. The Part 38 rules require the Full Employment Council to ensure that (1) policies on WIOA Title I nondiscrimination and/or EO issues are developed and implemented in a timely manner; and (2) WIOA recipients provide reasonable modifications of policies, practices, and procedures as required.

POLICY

The Full Employment Council (FEC) is committed to providing a work environment free from sexual harassment and discrimination. The purpose of this policy is to define and prohibit such behavior. FEC will promptly address all complaints rendered under this policy in a timely fashion and take appropriate disciplinary action, including dismissal, against those who violate this policy. The complaint process will remain confidential to the maximum extent possible.

Pursuant to this policy, both employees and non-employees are prohibited from harassing or discriminating against staff, customers, and partner employees, whether or not the incidents of harassment or discrimination occur on employer premises or during work hours. Employees and partners of FEC will treat one another and all those with whom they come into contact during the course of business equitably and fairly regardless of age, ancestry, color, disability, genetic information, military/veteran status, national origin, pregnancy, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation and gender identity. Depending upon the circumstances, this policy may extend beyond normal work hours and cover employee conduct at conferences, meetings, or other events. This policy also includes actions through social media, during normal or beyond normal work hours. Please be advised that this policy applies to all employee conduct, regardless of intent. Policies regarding harassment, discrimination, retaliation and accommodation herein also pertain to persons working as interns.

I. DEFINITIONS

The following definitions are for general reference purposes only and are not intended as a substitute for any legal definitions.

A. Hostile Work Environment: When discriminatory or harassing conduct creates a work environment that would be intimidating, abusive, hostile, or offensive to reasonable people, or has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's employment. Most instances of hostile work environment involve pervasive harassment that has a cumulative effect. Intimate Relationships: Intimate relationships are those that involve dating, sexual activity and/or romantic involvement.

B. Power-differentiated Working Relationship: Any work relationship in which one employee supervises or manages (directly or indirectly) another employee OR makes decisions concerning another employee's terms, conditions or privileges of employment

Protected Categories: Categories of individuals protected by law and/or executive order from any form of discrimination such as: Age, ancestry, color, disability, genetic information, military/veteran status, national origin, pregnancy, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation and gender identity.

C. Retaliation: Occurs when an employer takes an action or makes an adverse employment decision because an employee reports an incident of harassment or discrimination, or who participates in a related investigation.

D. Unwelcome Conduct: Conduct may be considered unwelcome if the employee did not solicit or invite it or the employee regarded it as undesirable or offensive.

II. DISCRIMINATORY HARASSMENT

Discriminatory harassment occurs when one individual disparages or shows hostility toward another on the basis of a protected category. Protected categories include age, ancestry, color, disability, genetic information, military/veteran status, national origin, pregnancy, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation and gender identity. Discriminatory harassment is against the law if it is sufficiently severe, pervasive, or persistent so as to interfere with an employee's work performance or employment opportunities, or create an intimidating, hostile, or offensive environment. Discriminatory harassment might include verbal, non-verbal, physical, or visual harassment based on or related to an individual's protected category.

The following is a non-exclusive list of behaviors that are inappropriate and, depending on the circumstances, may in and of themselves meet the definition of discriminatory harassment: □ Epithets, "jokes," or offensive or derogatory comments based upon an individual's sex, race, color, religion, national origin, age, disability, sexual orientation

- Ethnic slurs, workplace graffiti, or any offensive conduct directed towards an individual's birthplace, ethnicity, culture, or foreign accent
- Negatively stereotyping an individual based upon a one of the protected categories listed in this policy
- Making, posting, e-mailing or circulating written or graphic material in the workplace that denigrates or shows hostility towards an individual based upon his or her protected status
- Any other threatening or intimidating act that relates to race, gender, sex, color, religion, national origin, age or disability

Individuals, who engage in discriminatory harassment, as defined by this policy, will be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination from employment. FEC will determine, with proper regard for all surrounding circumstances, whether a specific act violates this policy.

III. SEXUAL HARASSMENT

Sexual harassment is unwelcome verbal, non-verbal, or physical conduct of a sexual nature that affects an employment decision, unreasonably interferes with an individual's work performance or creates an intimidating, hostile, or abusive work environment.

Certain behaviors, such as conditioning promotions, discharge, performance evaluation, pay adjustment, discipline, assignments, or any other condition of employment or career development on submission to unwelcome actions of a sexual nature, always constitutes sexual harassment. This is considered quid pro quo sexual harassment.

The following is a non-exclusive list of examples of behaviors that are inappropriate and, depending upon the circumstances, may in and of themselves meet the definition of sexual harassment or contribute to a hostile work environment. The following behaviors will not be tolerated under any circumstances, whether or not the behaviors alone constitute sexual harassment or create a hostile work environment:

- Sexual advances and propositions
- Requests for sexual favors
- Sexual "jokes," comments, suggestions or innuendo
- Foul or obscene gestures or language
- Display of foul, obscene or offensive printed or visual material
- Physical contact such as patting, pinching, hugging or brushing against another individual's body; or
- Any other unwelcome verbal, physical or visual conduct of a sexual nature

A victim of sexual harassment can be male or female. The victim can be of the same sex as the harasser. Although sexual harassment typically involves a power-differentiated working relationship, individuals in positions of lesser or equal authority can also harass.

Sexual harassment can be physical and/or psychological in nature. It can occur in one instance or as an aggregation of a series of incidents even if one of the incidents considered on its own would not rise to the level of harassment. Sexual harassment does not typically include occasional compliments of a socially acceptable nature.

Individuals who engage in sexual harassment, as defined by this policy, will be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination from employment. Employees who are found to have subjected another employee to unwelcome conduct of a sexual nature, whether such behavior meets the legal definition of sexual harassment or not, will be subject to discipline or other action appropriate to the circumstances.

Individuals who engage in sexual harassment, as defined by this policy, will be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination from employment. FEC will determine, with proper regard for all surrounding circumstances, whether a specific act violates this policy.

Employees who FEC finds have subjected another employee to unwelcome conduct of a sexual nature, whether such behavior meets the legal definition of sexual harassment or not, will be subject to discipline or other action appropriate to the circumstances.

IV. RETALIATION: HARASSMENT AND DISCRIMINATION

1. Any employee who reports an incident of harassment or discrimination, or who participates in a related investigation, shall not experience retaliation as a result.
2. Any employee who believes they have been retaliated against should immediately inform his/her supervisor or Human Resources.

1. All inquiries, complaints, and investigations related to this policy are confidential unless legally required to be disclosed. Information is revealed strictly on a need-to-know basis.
